

NFRW GOALS

Rae Lynne Chornenky, Arizona
Nominee for NFRW 2nd Vice President, 2010-2011

I believe the two most urgent needs of the National Federation of Republican Women involve membership and fundraising. All members of the NFRW must commit to making increased personal appeals to prospective members and continue involvement with the new members we recruit. This requires the energy of each of us in order that we might increase our numbers.

Fundraising needs to focus not on continuing to make money off ourselves only, but instead on outsider donations and contributions. Purchasing prospect lists is one method of fundraising, as is making personal contact with elected officials to request donations from those individuals whom we have gotten elected.

Sue Lynch, candidate for NFRW President, has advanced a plan of action which the new Executive Committee candidates are excited to endorse. If elected, I will commit to enlarging our membership base and to effective fundraising.
